

My One Regret

You came again in my mind today the baby I didn't want To make me feel my guilt again my imagination to taunt Wondering about your eyes and hair how old you'd be today
The many books we would have read the games we would have played I thought that life would be too hard there wasn't another way
And yet, I have to face this shame
I feel most every day Baby, can you ever forgive me?
I thought I had no choice I chose to put an end to you before you had a voice

Claudia Fitzgerald
